Task 4.

English language is one of the most popular to learn in the world. But is it good? What's more: Advantages or disadvantages? Let's try to answer these questions.

In positive side, English is easy to learn. It would be difficult to speak on international forums in Chinese! Also, English like a world's language can unite our cultures, countries and nations. English knowledge can increase program grammar of everyone too. The most of computer programs in any code, for example in Pascal, are writing only in English, because program's motherland is the United States of America.

In negative side, if maximal attention of everyone will be at English, we can forget our culture, traditions and language in not far future. So, history can imagine how many languages dead and forgotten.

In conclusion I can say that I have found three advantages and one disadvantage. Basing on this data, I think that the global spread of the English language has more advantages than disadvantages.
